(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) NORFOLK, VA., July 20.—The two new police commissioners to-day notified Mayor Hiddick, chairman of the board, that they desired to hold a meeting at an early date and make some important po-lice appointments. The Mayor does not recognize Messrs, Wood and Shultice as police commissioners, but maintains that the present commissioners, Messrs, Callahan and Reid, are legally in office.

NEAR DROWNING.

Mr. Bilisoly Hudgins, of Portsmouth, and Miss Bessie Jones, of Alexandria, Va., who is a guest of Mrs. W. S. Langhorne, on Middle Street, had quite an exciting experience Tuesday evening when bathing at Willoughby Spit. Mr. Hudgins, was teaching Miss Jones to swim, when he stepped into deep water, dragging Miss Jones after him. Mr. Morgan Hudgins, hearing screams for help, rescued the couple from drowning. They were taken to Hampton Roads Yacht Club and there revived, and no ill effects have been folt.

to Hampion Roads Yacht Club and there revived, and no ill effects have been feit.

C. C. Johnson will have to serve the two years in the penitentiary in accordance with the verdict of the jury of the Court of Hustings, which convicted him twice of forging a will, purporting to be the last will and testament of his wife. Ella B. Johnson. Governor Montague refused to pardon or commute the sentence. Two hundred and forty landsmen from the United States receiving ship Franklin left, yesterday morning from Newport News on their trip across the continent to the Pacific coast, where they will join the crulsers Buffalo and Boston.

BOY IS INNOCENT.

Asher Pickens, a fourteen-year-old boy from Cincinnati, who is now in the Portsmouth jail after being arrested at Ocean Yiew, and charged with being implicated with the postal robberies at Port Norfolk, will probably start for his home today, as a wire was received yesterday from his father, saying a ticket to return home on has been forwarded. His innocence was proved in this matter, and he was simply being held until he could be sent back home.

Norfolk will soon have a splendid driveway and boulevard from the center of the city, about four miles out, by way of Granby Street to Lafayette Park. The thoroughfare will be asphalted all the way, and will, when completed, be one of the fibest driveways in the South. It will represent a cost of some 200,000.

Mount.

The most notable features of the Agricultural and Mechanical Summer School to-day were a lecture before the nature study classes by Mr. F. H. Bushee on "The Study of Nature in the Schools." and the meeting of the North Carolina Woman's Association for the betterment of public school houses and grounds. The afternoon session was devoted to be hearing of the reports of officers, and to-night there was an immense crowd to hear the address of Dr. Charles D. McIver, president of the State Normal and Industrial College. A large number of new members were enrolled.

A consent judgment and order was signed to-day by Judge Thomas R. Purnell, of the United States Court, allowing John P. Cuyler and K. S. Finch to file a replication to the answer herefore effed by the Albanic and North Carolina Rallroad Company in the famous receivership case. The case is set for trial at the Cetober term. out by the prosecution was in connection with the drafts the First National Bank of Asheville had collected for other banks and falled to remit. By dence was also brought out to show that officers of the bank had orce frawn their accounts for large sums after they had notified customers that they had agreed to cease "this form of accommodation."

The sensation of the day occurred when evidence was introduced connecting the name of J. S. Adams, one of the attorneys for the defense, with the transaction of the bank just prior to its railure. It was shown that a note squeet by him had been taken up and replaced by an insolvent note. The insolvent note was discounted and the proceeds placed to the credit of Mr. Adams on the stand and a satisfactory explanation was made of the entire transaction.

The witness swore that his note, which was in the bank, was an accommodation note, and that he cerived no benefit from the proceeds. In order that his positioning the bunderstood fully. District Attorney Holton stated that he did not in Adams was connected with any will doing.

In his testimony, Mr. Broese explained that the failure of the bank was due to the panic of 1832 and 1833, which caused a depreciation in all values in the Asheville section. The ill effects of the panic were visible in Asheville for years. There was a wholesale depreciation of values, and the from 50 to 75 per cent., and the ranging from 50 to 75 per cent., and the entire community was almost rulmed. He claimed that his investments for the brank were made with the consent of the directors. The witness said in a large pocketbook were all the notes he had made, and the collateral security thereof, and that this had disappeared since the second trial. District Attorney Holton said the pocketbook would be preduced. ranging from 50 to 75 per cent., and the Breese's direct testimony was in gress when court adjourned until tomorrow.

The cases against Porland and Dickerson of the defunct bank, who are accused of taking about $175,000, have been continued to October, owing to the fact that Judge Keller is called to West Virginal on business.
